BUSINESS AND INVESTIGATIVE INTELLIGENCE

Our Business and Investigative Intelligence team is a high-value resource, exceptionally skilled at locating and analyzing critical information from a variety of sources, often across jurisdictions and at multiple levels, to provide the insight our clients seek. Drawing on our extensive experience and network of contacts, we provide our clients with tailored reporting and intelligence on individuals of interest, businesses, industry developments, geopolitical landscapes, and organizational and worldwide threats to amplify their decision-making capabilities.

Specializing in

1.

Background Investigations

Lions Gate is a proven reliable source of background investigations for litigations, individual locates, targeted individual investigations, and supporting clients who are concerned with threats to the integrity and security of their organization. This includes background checks on potential candidates to highlight identifiable concerns for employers as part of a corporate vetting process.

Due Diligence Investigations

Whether in support of significant capital investments, mergers & acquisitions, or strategic corporate developments, our team helps to mitigate unpredictability, understanding that a solid foundation is vital for all stakeholders. In-depth background investigations and analysis on individuals and companies fill knowledge gaps, verify information, establish connections, and identify vulnerabilities to strengthen business intelligence. This helps safeguard our clients and instill confidence in their decision-making.

3.

Daily, Weekly and Bi-Monthly Security Awareness Reporting

Security Awareness Reporting captures relevant developments across regions and sectors to support and strengthen clients' critical business and operational decisions. Our analysts sift through volumes of information to pinpoint developments and potential threats, deliver strategic forecasting, and highlight implications that are most important to your organization, projects, and assets.

Threat Awareness and Analysis

Whether building awareness around threats to your corporate assets or needing targeted individual searching and monitoring, we provide a detailed picture and analysis of the threats facing you and/or your organization. Working alongside the Lions Gate Team, we provide our clients with targeted mitigating strategies and solutions.

5.

Location Research and Risk Assessments

The Lions Gate Business and Investigative Intelligence team recognizes that more than ever organizations now face global implications, whether operating abroad or traveling to nurture networks and maximize opportunities. These reports provide in-depth assessments on key topics and geographic areas of interest deemed relevant to our clients based on potential security or corporate implications. Highly focused, they are generated through specific client requests, or executive and high-risk travel requirements.

Live Event Monitoring and Security

Assessing the threat landscape prior to and during events is key to mitigating risk. Real-time monitoring and intelligence gathering in support of corporate or security operations forms the backbone of our comprehensive risk assessments and security strategies.

7.

Executive Protection

Our Business and Investigative Intelligence analysts frequently engage in background and environmental scans in support of executive protection assignments to ensure the safety and security of our clients, as well as our Lions Gate Protective Security team.
